

HALO Electronics Inc. Selected as the Exclusive Distributor for Pro-Tek5 Systems Ltd. Products

Press Release: July 20, 2007

HALO is pleased to announce an exclusive relationship with Pro-Tek5 Systems Ltd., an Ethernet cabling system equipment manufacturer. The Pro-Tek5 Systems products are extremely synergistic with our sales and marketing direction and provide HALO the opportunity to offer our existing customers additional value. This new relationship comes at a time when customers are looking to reduce their vendor base and receive additional product offerings from their existing suppliers.

The Pro-Tek5 Systems products are designed for Military, Medical, critical network servers other high reliability Ethernet Equipment applications. The Pro-Tek5 products protect systems from high voltage and hazardous lightning strike events. These in-line products are real estate efficient, and easy to implement providing the highest level of protection in any CAT5 cabling system. Additional cabling system products will be announced in the coming months.

For more information please visit the Pro-Tek5 Systems Ltd. website at www.pro-tek5.com or contact your local HALO representative.
